

UNIVERSITY CALENDAR

Each year, the university offers the following three terms: fall, spring and summer.

Term	Term Length
Fall (usually begins in early September)	15 weeks
Spring (usually begins in late January)	15 weeks
Summer (usually begins in early May)	15 weeks

For the 2023-2024 academic year, there are also two overlapping eight-week Express Terms each fall, spring, and summer.

International Education schedules its terms based on the calendars of the host institutions and will provide information to students as it becomes available.

There are three periods in which faculty are unavailable to students, one typically immediately after the fall term, one after the spring term, and the last usually just preceding fall term. Students who require assistance during that time should contact 1Stop Student Services (<https://www.sunyempire.edu/1-stop-student-services/>).

2023-2024 Academic Calendar

The university's three-term academic year provides time well in advance of the start of the term for students to work with their mentors and plan the upcoming term. During the advising and registration period, students and mentors schedule time to discuss their educational goals and the available learning opportunities, to design individualized studies and to secure the learning resources for each course. For more information, please see Getting Started and Registration (<http://catalog.esc.edu/undergraduate/getting-started-registration/>). Please note that the financial aid calendar starts with the summer term.
